The Dancing Castros Bring Joy to SCC

Volunteer Coordinator Needed to Organize Members Who Want to Serve

The life blood of any organization is the people, and that could not be more true at our Community Center. It takes a Seabeckian village to run our events and activities. The fact is we need help, all sorts of help. We want to make the center more available to people in the community. In order to do that we need well-utilized volunteers. Our growing list of people wanting to assist now warrants the addition of a new Board Member/Volunteer Coordinator to pair the needs of the center with the skills of our volunteers.

So if you are looking to help us expand our offerings and want to coordinate one of the most important components for growth at the Center, fill out our online volunteer form or email us.

A special thanks to all who have donated thousands of cumulative hours in our first full year of operation.

Spotlight on Volunteers: The Petersons

Misery Point residents Mark and Carla Peterson have taken the lead in keeping our Center shining since the SCC opened its doors in May of 2021. Mark, whom you can wave to at the Kitsap Fred Meyer Deli, and Carla, a retired ophthalmic technician, spend their weekend date nights keeping the bathrooms, stage, Study and the main gym sanitized and cleaned. Carla says that with the increased SCC campus use, more volunteers are needed to keep the Center shining.

Kudos to the Petersons for their steadfast help week after week.

So sign up to volunteer to quickly clean restrooms, vacuum or mop!

Twenty-Nine Households Rent Spaces

300+ Visit Annual Seabeck Road Sale at SCC Campus

Residents who live down obscure gravel roads could sell tools, kitchen and household wares, clothing, crafts and even collectable German beer steins on July 9, 2022, at the SCC outdoor campus, paying only $10, $15 or $20 for spaces.

Each vendor cleaned up with nothing left behind, reported the event manager.

Keep cleaning those garages to get ready now for the years-old tradition: The Seabeck Community Road Sale held annually on the second Saturday in July.
